COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

4 LENSES

This course will open an understanding of what motivates others and how they “see” the world, enable participants to communicate more effectively, appreciate and tolerate the differences in others, improve relationships, and increase the ability for teams to become more interconnected. By understanding the science behind personality uniqueness and applying proven interdependent principles, professional teams as well as all relationships, will be elevated dramatically. Through the development of critical skills, ANG civilian and military members will enhance their ability to identify signs and symptoms of an individual’s ability to adapt to the stresses and challenges associated with military life – thus affecting readiness and retention.

REGIONAL SEMINARS

Increasing threats to national security pose unprecedented challenges to the United States both at home and abroad. Alan L. Freed Associates is offering a series of panel discussions that will address various regional and other issues of national concern designed to prepare senior executives to meet such challenges. The moderated panels are typically composed of three nationally recognized experts on the area being addressed. These programs are informal and strictly “off-the-record.” No video, power point or audio-visual aids are utilized in the sessions.

The target audience is senior executives across the DoD and Intel communities. Others who have a special interest in the subject, need-to-know, or are in key positions may apply. Seminar space is strictly limited to assure participants have ample time or open discussion with the panelists.

SENIOR ENLISTED JOINT PROFESSIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION (SEJPME) II

The SEJPME II Course builds upon the SEJPME I Course and is a stand-alone, 45 hour, 100% online, multi-media offering. The course contains a pre-test, 25 modules of instruction, lesson knowledge checks, module examinations, and module feedback forms. In order to progress from one module to the next all lessons and knowledge checks must be completed, a minimum examination grade of 80% on the module exam must be achieved, and a completed electronic module evaluation and feedback form is required. To receive a course completion certificate all modules, exams, and feedback forms must be completed. IMPORTANT: This course does not allow a student to 'click through' the material. Please plan for 45 hours of online instruction.

STRATEGIC MINDSET SEMINAR (SMS)

The Strategic Mindset Seminar (SMS) helps enhance attendees' ability to understand, model and resolve complex business issues. Attendees learn to develop the "mental elasticity" needed to anticipate the intended and unintended consequences of today's decisions and understand how those decisions will lead to organizational successes or failures in the future.

This program will help attendees:

- Understand the challenges of their organizations from a systems' perspective and design solutions that leverage their strengths
- Anticipate the intended and unintended consequences of today's decisions
- Use Casual Loop Diagrams (the principal tool of Systems Thinking) to properly diagnose and solve the most critical and complex issues within their organizations
- View their organizations as interrelated and interdependent systems rather than a collection of separate entities
